E. Roberts, Miss L. H. Tompson, Mrs. Evan Evans, Mr. T. Morgan, 27, Bridge Street; Supt. D. Thomas, Mr. Jenkin Humphreys, Mr. T. W. Powell.

Lieut.-Colonel G. Fossett Roberts, who presided, said they were meeting that morning under the shadow of a very dark cloud. He was sure they all felt that not only the institution in which they were that day interested, but that the whole town and county of Cardigan had lost a very true friend in the death of Alderman Peter Jones. It was on such an occasion as this that they felt how impossible it was adequately to express the sense of loss which had fallen upon the community. Alderman Peter Jones had been associated with the Infirmary for years. He was first appointed as a member of the Committee of Management in March, 1889, so that he had served the Infirmary for a period of thirty-eight years— a record of which any man or woman might well be proud.

The following resolution, moved by Colonel Roberts, was passed in silence, all present standing:—"That this meeting places on record the loss which it has sustained by the death of Alderman Peter Jones, who had been a member of the Committee of Management for thirty-eight years, and who had rendered invaluable service to the Institution. The Governors also desire to express their sincere sympathy with the members of his family."

Dr. Edward Roberts, Aberllofwyn, president of the Infirmary, wrote regretting that owing to the state of his health he could not be present at the annual meeting. All concerned were to be most heartily congratulated on the excellent work done at the Infirmary and its sound financial position. He referred to the great loss the Infirmary had sustained by the death of Mr. Bickerstaff, who took the greatest interest in its work and gave most handsome donations in his own quiet way.

Colonel Roberts said he received a message from the President that morning asking him to say that he joined with them in expressing sorrow and regret at the death of their colleague, Mr. Peter Jones.

The Annual Report was presented by Colonel Roberts in the absence of the President. Referring to the death of Mr. Bickerstaff, Colonel Roberts said he had served the Institution well. He was a member of the Management Committee, and was a regular attendant at the meetings. During his life he was a generous subscriber, and he had left a legacy of £300 to the Infirmary. This legacy was subject to legacy duty, so that the sum they actually received under Mr. Bickerstaff's will was £270. But his son, Mr. R. Y. Bickerstaff, very kindly came forward and added £30, which made up the original sum of £300. That sum had now been invested.

Continuing, Colonel Roberts said there was another subject of interest which he would like to refer to before passing on to the statistics. That was the important question of the recognition of the Infirmary as a training hospital for nurses. At present it was not recognised as such, and, therefore, nurses who commenced their careers there were severely handicapped when they finished their period of training. Under the Nurses Registration Act, 1919, all trained nurses must be trained at recognised hospitals, and when they passed the necessary examinations they became eligible to have their names on the State Register. There were two ways of getting over the difficulty, and the Committee of Management were seriously considering the matter. The first alternative was to extend the hospital so that there would be a minimum of fifty beds. To-day they claimed to be a forty bed hospital, but the minimum number for recognition was fifty, and even if they had fifty beds it would still be necessary to have various departments so that the nurses might obtain training in various classes of medical work. The bulk of the work done at the hospital at present was surgical. They also had an ophthalmic and children's department, but they must have a medical department as distinct from a surgical department to claim recognition as a training hospital for nurses. If they wanted to go on in that direction it would mean that they would have to extend the premises and incur heavy capital expenditure. It was only very recently the building was extended at a cost of nearly £15,000, so that it would be heavy drain on the people of North Cardiganshire to tap them again so soon. But, in the meantime, they must not let their nurses suffer, and the only way left open was to become affiliated to one of the larger hospitals. The Committee were now negotiating with a view to affiliation. As soon as that was accomplished their nurses would be recognised as being in a trained hospital. Instead of serving for three years at the Infirmary, they would serve for two years, and then proceed to a larger hospital for a further period of two years. He felt sure that would meet with the approval of the Governors. They had seven probationers at the Infirmary, and the sooner they affiliated the better it would be for the probationers. The hospital was magnificently equipped in every respect, and they were not prepared, either to allow the nurses to suffer, or to allow the hospital to be considered as of second grade. (Cheers.) He was afraid they did not think enough of the magnificent work done by the staff. They had a house surgeon, a matron, two sisters, one staff nurse, seven probationers, a dispenser and a masseuse. He was sorry to say they were going to lose Staff Nurse Thomas, who had rendered most valuable services at the Infirmary during the last four years. She had succeeded in obtaining an excellent post, and, shortly they would have to fill the vacancy. In addition to those mentioned they had a cook, a housemaid, two ward maids, a laundress, an ironer, an attendant for the boiler and heating apparatus, and a part time gardener. They had twenty-one persons employed full time at the hospital. Apart from the work of the honorary medical staff, he felt they were greatly indebted to the nursing staff and house surgeon. Their life was a pretty hard and strenuous one, and he felt that a word of encouragement from the annual meeting would help them to carry on efficiently the work which they so willingly did year in and year out. (Cheers.)

During the year 388 in-patients were treated at the hospital, compared with 216, 222, 359, 393, in the years 1922, 1923, 1924, and 1925, respectively. From Aberystwyth and surrounding district, the number admitted was 171, an increase of 10 compared with the previous year. From the remainder of the county 187 were admitted—exactly the same as the previous year. From outside the county the number admitted was 30, which was 15 less than the previous year. He thought this reduction was due to the fact that Machynlleth had now a cottage hospital where operations were performed, and to that extent they relieved the work at this institution. Out of the total of 388, the number treated free of charge of any kind was 154. (Cheers.) Twenty-eight ex-service men were also treated without charge, but in return they received from the local branch of the British Legion a grant of £20. (Cheers.) There were 23 contributing members of one or other of the groups of employees who subscribe to the Infirmary also treated.

The number of operations performed was 344, which compared with 153, 165, 232, 308, in 1922, 1923, 1924 and 1925, respectively. So that they could safely claim that, during the past five years the number of patients treated and the number of operations performed had considerably more than doubled. The number treated as out-patients during the year was 808, involving 3,000 attendances.

Under the will of the Rev. Towyn Jones, they received a sum of £20, which went to the maintenance accounts. Through the Chief Constable and Town Clerk they received a donation of £20, given by a visitor. Dr. Lloyd, Rose-land, Llanon, whose child was treated as a private patient, sent a donation of £10 10s. as a mark of appreciation, and that, coming from a medical man, spoke for itself. The sum of £180 was received from Dr. Prys, being a legacy left by his brother, Mr. John Prys.

A few items would show how great was the interest taken in this institution by the people of North Cardigan-shire. Mr. Nun Davies, the Mayor of Lampeter, made a house-to-house collection for the second or third time, and sent up £63 11s. 11d.; the Llanddewi Brefi drama proceeds brought in £12 14s.; Aberystwyth Co-operative Children's Choir, £11 5s. 7d.; Aberduar Dramatic Society, £9; Llan-rhystyd, £14 15s.; Pontrhydygroes, £11 11s.; Llangeitho, £10; Llanybyther G.F.S., £29 13s. 1d.; Dance at Borth Hotel, £84 1s. 5d.; Borth Carnival, £10; Mr. and Mrs. D. Williams, North Parade, who collected for an operating theatre lamp, £33; sale of produce at Aberystwyth (per Mrs. Tom Humphrey Edwards), £390 2s. 4d.; sale of artificial flowers organised by Misses Peter Jones on the same day as produce sale, £131 11s. 10.; Aberystwyth Carnival, £111 6s.; Infirmary Ball, £69 5s. 9d.; Aston schoolboys concert and football match, £13 10s. 8d.; match between Aberystwyth butchers and police, £9 10s.; Cer-y Castell, £5.

The Linen Guild did extraordinarily valuable work, which now relieved the Management Committee of all anxiety and responsibility with regard to the supplies of linen for the Infirmary. Not only did that mean a great financial gain to the Infirmary, but it added tremendously to the comfort of the patients and improved the appearance of the wards. The Management Committee provided during the year a new set of cutlery.

He was asked to thank all those who contributed to the Matron's Christmas Fund. They were greatly indebted to those people who were continually sending something or other up to the Infirmary. They had to thank Mr. Tom I. Ellis for an invalid chair, and Mr. Thomas,

North Parade, for an electric heater. Farmers very kindly sent eggs and potatoes. Messrs. Hopkins Bros., Fronfraith Farm, sowed so many rows of potatoes for the Infirmary and brought them up. That was an example he urged others to follow.

Acknowledging the services of Miss Myfanwy Jones, Colonel Roberts felt sure they were all particularly sorry for her that day. She had carried out her duties faithfully and well, and he wished to thank her very much for the assistance she had given him. He also wished to thank his colleagues on the Management Committee. They had worked together without any friction, and there was nothing but the best of feelings between every member of the Committee and every member of the staff working at the Infirmary. (Cheers.)

Presenting the balance sheet, which showed receipts amounting to £3,845 4s. 3d., and a credit balance of £22 17s. 7d., Mr. S. D. Evans, manager of the National Provincial Bank, expressed pleasure because there was a balance on the credit side as against a balance on the wrong side last year. They would observe that there was an increase of £100 in donations, and £140 from other sources. Although they had a balance on the right side they must not relax their efforts. Referring to the building fund, he said there was an overdraft of nearly £1,000 on that account.

Canon David Williams, in proposing the adoption of the balance sheet, regretted the absence of Mr. D. C. Roberts, the chairman of the Finance Committee. They started the year, he said, with a deficit of £54, and ended with a balance in hand of £22 17s. 7d. Roughly speaking, the expenditure on the Infirmary amounted to £75 per week. They were anxious to get a stable income, and with that end in view to increase the number of annual subscribers. Workers' contributions amounted to £160 17s. 11d. This was an entirely new thing. Groups of workmen joined together and gave 2d. per week out of their earnings to the Infirmary, and for that the Infirmary promised to give them and their dependents free treatment. They had no intention of paying off the debt on the building fund for three years, and it would be paid out of savings from Downie's Bequest.

Mr. Arthur Jones, seconding, drew attention to church collections. The Church in Wales collected £127, an increase of £9; Methodists, £104, an increase of £1; the Congregationalists were down £3; the Wesleyans down £4; and the Baptists were down £8. He would like to appeal to them to increase their collections. As auditor, he paid tribute to the Secretary for keeping the books in a perfect manner.

Colonel Roberts expressed appreciation of the services rendered by Mr. D. C. Roberts in looking after the finances. Adverting to the contributory scheme, he hoped other bodies of men would join together and form groups or ally themselves to existing groups. Among sums received, he mentioned £8 8s. from County Council roadmen, through Mr. Owen; £3 3s. from the haulage contractors of the County Council; £8 8s. from the National Library staff; £10 from Post Office staff; £12 from the boatmen; £10 13s. 4d. from Lloyds Bank staff hospital guild, comprising the Lampeter, Llanybyther, Tregaron, and New Quay branches.

Mr. J. Edwards, representing the railwaymen's group, said those who received treatment gave the highest praise possible to the staff and house surgeon.

Mr. J. L. Davies referred to what had been done to provide wireless for the Infirmary by Cor y Castell.

Proposing the re-election of Dr. Edward Roberts as president for the year, Mrs. A. Griffith said he gave unstintingly of his best to the Infirmary. They regretted that his health did not allow him to attend the meeting.

The Rev. T. E. Roberts seconded, and Dr. Abraham Thomas, supporting, said that Dr. Roberts operated at the Infirmary about a fortnight previously, and removed an eye with his old skill.

The motion was carried unanimously.

The retiring Committee were Mrs. A. Griffith, Mr. E. Ellis, Mr. R. E. Jones, Borth; Rev. T. E. Roberts, Mr. Robert Bickerstaff, Major L. J. Mathias, and the Rev. J. D. Evans. There was one vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Bickerstaff.

Mr. Evan Evans moved the re-election of the other six, and the Rev. D. Jones, Llanbadarn, seconding, suggested that Mr. R. Y. Bickerstaff succeed his father.

Mr. J. L. Davies moved that three ladies be elected on the committee, but found no seconder.

The motion to re-elect the six was carried, and, seconded by Mr. C. M. Williams, that to appoint Mr. R. Y. Bickerstaff to fill the vacancy was adopted.

On the motion of Mr. C. M. Williams, seconded by Mr. E. E. Ellis, Mr. Arthur Jones was re-elected auditor.

A vote of thanks to the honorary staff was proposed by the Rev. J. D. Evans, seconded by Mrs. Evans, Talybont, and supported by Mr. J. L. Davies and Mr. T. H. Edwards.

Dr. Ellis, responding, said the need for more beds would soon arise. Dr. Burrell and Dr. Bowen also responded.

Dr. Abraham Thomas praised the work done by the honorary staff, and said the results would stand comparison with the best hospitals.

A suggestion by Mr. J. L. Davies, and supported by Mr. T. H. Edwards, that the great services that had been rendered by Dr. Thomas should be recognised by giving his name to a ward was referred to the Committee.

On the motion of Mr. T. H. Edwards, seconded by the Rev. J. D. Evans, a warm vote of thanks was passed to Colonel Roberts and the Management Committee.
